

THE HISTORY, VISION, MISSION AND PROGRAMMES OF THE LONDON SCHOOL OF GLOBAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND LEADERSHIP (LSGEL)

OUR HISTORY

The London School of Global Entrepreneurship and Leadership (LSGEL) is the outcome of a strategic journey that began with a passion for entrepreneurship development, leadership training, business innovation, and social impact creation.

The foundation of this journey can be traced to De Ambassadors Advisory and Investment Ltd (UK), a business advisory, management consulting, entrepreneurship development, and investment support organization established to help entrepreneurs, professionals, businesses, and organizations improve performance, develop sustainable strategies, and create long-term value.

Through years of consulting, business development, entrepreneurship mentoring, and capacity-building initiatives, it became evident that many aspiring entrepreneurs, professionals, and leaders across Africa and the diaspora required access to practical, affordable, flexible, and globally relevant entrepreneurship education.

This realization led to the establishment of Diaspora Recruitment Network (DRN) Ltd UK, a platform designed to bridge the gap between education, employability, entrepreneurship, leadership development, and global opportunities. DRN expanded beyond recruitment services to include professional training, business development support, mentorship, international networking, and entrepreneurial capacity building.

As the educational and professional development arm of DRN continued to grow, DRN Academy was established to provide structured certification programmes, specialization courses, executive development programmes, and entrepreneurship-focused training. The Academy became a platform for empowering entrepreneurs, professionals, executives, founders, business owners, migrants, and emerging leaders through practical and industry-relevant learning.

Building on this foundation and responding to the growing demand for global entrepreneurship education, innovation, leadership development, technology integration, and enterprise creation, DRN Academy evolved into the London School of Global Entrepreneurship and Leadership (LSGEL).

Today, LSGEL serves as a global entrepreneurship and leadership institution committed to developing entrepreneurs, innovators, professionals, executives, investors, and transformational leaders capable of creating sustainable enterprises, generating employment, driving innovation, and contributing to economic and social development worldwide. The institution operates with a global outlook while maintaining strong engagement with Africa, the diaspora community, and emerging markets.

OUR VISION

To become a globally recognized entrepreneurship and leadership institution that develops visionary entrepreneurs, innovative leaders, business builders, professionals, and change-makers who create sustainable impact across nations and industries.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to:

- * Deliver accessible, practical, flexible, and globally relevant entrepreneurship and leadership education.
- * Empower entrepreneurs, professionals, executives, and emerging leaders with the knowledge, skills, mindset, and networks required for success.
- * Promote innovation, enterprise development, wealth creation, and sustainable economic growth.
- * Bridge the gap between education, entrepreneurship, employability, leadership, and global opportunities.
- * Build a global ecosystem of entrepreneurs, professionals, investors, institutions, and development partners.
- * Support the development of socially responsible businesses and transformational leadership initiatives that create positive impact in communities worldwide.
